Profile

Operations and digital product leader with experience building e-commerce and running operations at ALLO, VARUS and LOKO / Fozzy Group. I combine budgeting and P&L management with operating-model design, digital product development and sales-channel launches. I have led an operating structure of 150+ people and teams of function leads. My experience covers order fulfillment, warehouses, delivery, customer service, product teams and business-side ERP rollout. Strength: organizing cross-functional work and turning discrete initiatives into managed processes with clear ownership and performance metrics.
